

Wedding Invitations Design Inspiration

A Guide To Choosing Your Beautiful Unique Wedding Invitations Wedding invitations are an integral part of your wedding's theme and the "mood" you want to set for your ceremony. Your wedding invitation also serves as a souvenir of a special occasion, and an announcement of your love and commitment to each other. Selecting Your Wedding Invitation's Design Your Wedding Planner can help advise you whether you're looking for a ready-made wedding invitations or wanting to add your own personal touch. Here are the things to consider:

- * Formal or casual wedding. You want a wedding invitation to complement the overall theme and mood of your wedding. Is your wedding formal or casual? A formal wedding may need classic script fonts, formal wording, and the traditional double envelope. A more casual wedding invitation may use more modern fonts and more natural wording (i.e., instead of "we cordially invite you", say "please join us…"), but care must be taken to retain the solemnity of the occasion.
- * Personal Touches. You can add a short poem, a photo of you as a couple, or a song lyric from your wedding ceremony.

Wedding Invitation Inserts Most wedding invitation companies can provide a selection of templates where you just have to fill in the specific names, places and dates. However, many couples prefer to make their own, to make the invitation less formal and more personalized. With so many gorgeous papers to select from you can create a gorgeous wedding invitation. What theme or colour for your wedding invitations will you choose.....Whimsical,quirky,vintage, classic, Here's a few guidelines:

- * Consider including a map to the church and/or reception area. A map would be very helpful, and would save many guests any inconvenience especially if the wedding is located in a place they are unfamiliar with.
- * If you are moving to a new home after the wedding, you can include another small insert announcing your new address.
